❖ (TROUT+GRAYLING+AND+BLACK+BASS) ❖

FISHERIES,

—AND THE—

FAMOUS GAME AND SUMMER RESORTS AND LAKES OF NORTHERN MICHIGAN.

THE WATERS of the Grand Traverse region and the Michigan North Woods are unsurpassed, if equaled, in the abundance and great variety of fish contained.

BROOK TROUT abound in the streams, and the famous AMERICAN GRAYLING is found only in these waters.

THE TROUT SEASON begins May 1st and ends September 1st. THE GRAYLING SEASON opens June 1st and ends November 1st.

BLACK BASS, PIKE, PICKEREL AND MUSCALONGE also abound in large numbers in the many lakes and lakelets of this territory. The Sportsman can readily send trophies of his skill to his friends or "Club" at home, as ice for packing fish can be had at many points.

TAKE YOUR FAMILY WITH YOU. The scenery of the North Woods and Lakes is very beautiful. The air is pure, dry and bracing.

THE CLIMATE is peculiarly beneficial to those suffering with HAY FEVER and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS.

THE HOTEL ACCOMMODATIONS are good; far surpassing the average in countries new enough to afford the finest of fishing.

During the season, ROUND TRIP EXCURSION TICKETS WILL BE SOLD AT LOW RATES, and attractive train facilities offered to Tourists and Sportsmen.

Dogs, Guns and Fishing Tackle Carried Free at Owner's Risk.

It is our aim to make Sportsmen feel "at home" on this route. For "Northern Michigan, Lakes and Summer Resorts," an attractive illustrated book of 140 pages free, Time-Cards, Folders and further information, address

PREFACE.

The publishers of the present volume of the INDIANA STATE GAZETTEER AND BUSINESS DIRECTORY have endeavored to merit the approval of this large and important State by the publication of a work replete with information that will not only benefit the business community, but prove advantageous to the citizens at large, by setting forth, in a concise manner, the notable features of the different sections. To this end, descriptive sketches of each place have been given, embracing various statistics of interest, such as the location, population, distance to different points, the nearest shipping station or landing, the products that are marketed, the express and telegraph companies, stage communication, mail delivery, inducements to settlers, mining interests and business opportunities; mention is made of the different churches and schools in each place; this is followed by an alphabetical list of business firms, which are again given in a voluminous classified directory with postoffice address; a very full and accurate Shippers' Guide to every town and village, list of county officers, justices of the peace, etc.

Accompanying the work is a new map of Indiana, showing the congressional districts, and all the lines of railroads completed or projected.

A work of this kind necessarily involves a great amount of labor and expenditure of large sums of money, neither of which, in this instance, has been spared, the aim of the publishers being to make it, in every respect, creditable to themselves and worthy the confidence of the business public.

We thank those who have kindly afforded information and assistance, and the many business men who have given the work their support, and congratulate the people upon the substantial revival of business in every section of the country.

INDIANA COLLECTION LAWS.

Actions.—Must be brought in the name of the real party, in interest. The distinction between actions at law and suits in equity is abolished, and a single form denominated a complaint is substituted.

Arrest.—No imprisonment for debt except in cases of fraud.

Attachment.—May issue upon proper affidavit and bond when action is for the recovery of money in the following cases: (1) Where a defendant is a foreign corporation, or a non-resident of the State; or, (2) Where a defendant is secretly leaving, or has left the State, with intent to defraud creditors; or, (3) so conceals himself that summons can not be served upon him; or, (4) is removing, or is about to remove his property, subject to execution, or a material part thereof, out of the State, not leaving enough to satisfy plaintiff's claim; or, (5) has sold, conveyed, or otherwise disposed of his property, subject to execution; or suffered, or permitted to suffer, with the fraudulent intent to cheat, hinder, or delay his creditors; or, (6) is about to sell, or otherwise dispose of his property, subject to execution, with such intent. But no writ shall issue where the plaintiff and principal defendant are both non-residents, and the debt sought to be reached is the personal earnings or wages due or owing to the principal defendant by any person or corporation doing business in the State.

Chattel Mortgage.—Where mortgagor retains possession, must be recorded within thirty days in Recorder's office of county where mortgagor resides to be valid.

Commercial Paper.—See Notes and Bills.

Corporations.—Are organized under general laws. The only personal liability of stockholders of manufacturing and mining corporations is to pay the amount of stock subscribed by them respectively, except that such stockholders are individually liable for all debts of such corporations owing laborers, servants, apprentices and employees for services rendered such corporations. (Laws Special Session 1875, p. 25.) By Act of March 13, 1877, it is provided that the employees of any corporation doing business in this State, whether organized under the laws of this State or otherwise, shall be entitled to have a lien upon the corporate property and earnings of such corporation for all work and labor done therefor. Said lien to be prior to any and all liens of such corporation acquired subsequent to the date of such employment, except that when any person, or any employee shall acquire a lien upon the corporate property, and such lien shall remain of record for 60 days in any county in this State where such corporation is located or doing business, and no lien shall have been acquired by any employee of such corporation during such period, then such lien shall have priority over the lien of the employee, also, except any lien for purchase money. To acquire such lien the employee must have a notice of his intention to acquire such lien recorded in the Recorder's office of the county where the corporation is located or doing business. The lien must be entered within 6 months after acquiring it, or if a credit is given, from the date of credit. (Law Special Session 1877, p. 27.)

Dower.—Tenancies by the courtesy and in dower are abolished. If a husband die testate, leaving a widow, one third of his real estate shall descend to her in fee simple, free of all demands of creditors: Provided, That where the real estate exceeds in value $10,000, she shall have one-fourth only, and where it exceeds in value $20,000, one-fifth only as against creditors. If a wife die testate or intestate, leaving a widower, one third of her real estate shall descend to him, subject, however, to the proportion of the debts of the wife contracted before her marriage. By the act of March 11th, 1875, it is provided that the wife shall be entitled to one-third in fee simple of real property owned by the husband and sold at judicial sales on judgments rendered after the taking effect of said act (Aug. 25, 1875), where it is not ordered, in said judgment, that her interest shall be sold or barred, whenever the title to such real property shall become vested in the purchaser, his heirs or assigns, by virtue of such sales, except that when such sale amounts to more than $20,000, she shall only be entitled to such interests in $20,000 of the same.

Evidence.—Parties in interest of equal competency with other witnesses; husband and wife; ministers, made to them in their professional character, are privileged.

Execution.—Lien on personal property, within the county, from the time of going into the hands of officer, if several are out at the same time in the hands of different officers, first levied has priority; and all liens created by the prior delivery of any other execution shall be divested in favor of execution first levied.

Exemption.—$300 to non-indent householders, of any property they may select. The foregoing provision only applies to debts founded on contract, express or implied, entered into since May 30, 1870, and does not affect any laborer's or mechanic's lien, nor lien for the purchase money of the real estate exempted. Upon contracts entered into before said date, there is only an exemption of $300. (As to exemptions in favor of married women, see Married Women.)

Foreign Corporations.—Agents of corporations not incorporated or organized in this State, before entering upon the duties of their agency in the State, shall deposit in the Clerk's office of the county where they propose doing business therefor, the power of attorney, commission, appointment or other authority under or by virtue of which they act as agents. Said agents shall prepare and file with the Clerk of the Circuit Court of the county where they propose doing business before commencing the duties thereof, a duly authenticated order, resolving and attesting the sufficient authority of the Board of Directors, or managers of such corporations, authorizing the citizens or residents of this State, having a claim or demand against such corporations, to sue for and maintain an action in any court of competent jurisdiction, and further authorizing such citizens or residents to serve process in such action on such agent, to be valid service on such corporation, and such service shall authorize judgment and all other proceedings against such corporation. Such foreign corporations shall not enforce in any courts of this State any contracts made by them with agents, or persons assuming to act as their agents, before a compliance by such agents, or persons acting as such, with the foregoing provisions of law. Any person acting as agent of such corporation, neglecting or refusing to comply with the foregoing provisions as to agents, shall, upon conviction by indictment, be fined in any sum not less than fifty dollars. The foregoing provisions do not apply to persons acting as agents for foreign corporations for a special or temporary purpose, or for purposes not within the ordinary business of such corporations. The Supreme Court of this State has decided that the foregoing provisions of law do not apply to foreign corporations and their agents, engaged wholly in the manufacture, use, or sale of patented articles in this State.

ATTICA. First settled in 1825. Is a thriving incorporated village of about 3000 inhabitants, and the chief commercial town of Fountain county, is situated on the east fork of Wabash river, and on W. St. L. & P. Ry., 14 miles northwest of Covington, the county seat, and 22 miles southwest of Lafayette. The Chicago and Block Coal railroad now runs from Attica to Veedersburg, where it connects with the I. B. & W. Ry., will probably be extended to coal fields 10 miles south, in 1880, and eventually to Brazil, and northward to Templeton, connecting there with L. E. & W. and C. I. St. L. & C. R. R's. The city has excellent water, which is obtained from a reservoir that is supplied from inexhaustible springs in the hillside just above, not only furnishing the city with a bountiful supply of pure spring water, but has enough elevation for fire department, which is well equipped. Attica has a graded school building erected at a cost of $40,000, and a library of about 500 volumes. Six churches—Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Christian, Catholic, and Jewish Synagogue—two hotels and a national bank. The manufacturing interests of the place are as yet in their infancy, comprising one foundry and machine shop, boiler manufactory, brick yard, furniture manufactory, and drain tile manufactory. Grain is the principal article of export. The surrounding country is especially adapted to the growth, and the yield supports three large grain elevators. The press is represented by the Attica Led-

AUROMA. Pleasantly located on the Ohio river, in Center township, Dearborn county, 4 miles below Lawrenceburgh, the county seat, 25 below Cincinnati, and 90 southeast of Indianapolis. The place was laid out in 1819, was incorporated in 1848, and is now a flourishing business city, traversed by the O. & M. Ry. Owing to its superior transportation facilities, Aurora is quite an extensive manufacturing place, having the largest distillery in Indiana, and that, together with a large brewery, nail factory, brickyard, two saw mills, one furniture factory, two flour mills, a stave and heading factory, chair factory and one foundry, comprise the principal manufacturing interests. Among the chief features of the place are its ten churches of different denominations, two handsome school buildings, seven hotels, a national bank, two weekly newspapers—the Independent and Saturday News—and a handsome opera house. The city, from its beautiful locanon, is very attractive and has an excellent fire department, is well lighted by gas, patroled by police, and is, in fact, a very pleasant, thrifty place. Population 5,441. Liquors, hay, furniture, iron, nails, chairs and grain are the leading exports. Express, Adams and O. & M. Telegraph, Western Union. Mail received 8 times per day by rail, and 3 times by boat. ELKHART. The principal business and manufacturing place in Elkhart county, is a flourishing incorporated city of 7,000 inhabitants, beautifully located on the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern (Main and Air Lines) R. R., and is the northern terminus of the Cincinnati, Wabash & Michigan Ry. St. Joseph and Elkhart rivers flow through the city and are used extensively for water power on the hydraulic system, thus supplying a part of its many mills and factories. The city is very handsomely laid out in wide streets, beautifully lined with shade trees and lighted by gas; has an excellent fire department, imposing church edifices of nearly all denominations, one high and four graded ward schools. Elkhart is located 10 miles northwest of Goshen, the county seat, 101 east of Chicago, 60 northwest of Fort Wayne, and 150 northeast of Indianapolis, and is essentially a manufacturing town, having three paper mills, two straw board factories, two flour mills, two hosiery manufactories, a band instrument manufactory, three planing mills, wind mill factory, two starch factories, a saw mill and two foundries. Its paper mills manufacture news, tissue and writing paper, and employ a large number of hands. The band instrument factory employs 75 persons. The two starch factories ship an immense amount of starch annually, especially the Elkhart Starch Works, which is in an unusually healthy condition, and manufactures a very superior article of starch. There are employed in addition to the hands required to run the above mentioned establishments about 400 mechanics and laborers in the two railroad yards and shops, thereby making this place the most extensive manufacturing and most prosperous business place of its size in the State. The city supports three banks—two private and one national—six hotels, one daily and three weekly newspapers—the Review (daily and weekly), the Journal and Democrat, both weekly—in addition to five small monthly sheets published by the Mennonite Publishing Company. Mr. Fred W. Miller is postmaster. The United States Express and Western Union Telegraph Companies have offices here.

EVANSVILLE. The chief commercial and manufacturing city of Southern Indiana, and second in population, commerce and manufacture in the State, is the county seat of Vanderburg county, and by the 1880 census had 28,000 inhabitants. Evansville has many and great natural advantages, located on the Ohio river thus giving it water communication with all the Ohio and Mississippi river cities from Pittsburgh to New Orleans. It has a splendid agricultural country surrounding it, and with its many manufacturing and business interests, make it desirable as a resident, commercial and manufacturing location.

RAILROADS.

The city has excellent transportation advantages in commerce and trade, for in addition to the river, it has three railroads. Its chief road is the Evansville and Terre Haute, which has its southern terminus and general offices here, and gives it through and direct connection with Chicago. It is the eastern terminus of the St. Louis and South Eastern Railway, which gives a through and unbroken transit to St. Louis. The Lake Erie, Evansville and Southwestern road with its offices and headquarters here, is destined at no distant day to be extended to Indianapolis, thus giving it an eastern connection with the trunk lines.

Elegant Table Ware, and Silver Tea Sets.

COMMERCE.

It has an unusually large wholesale trade, which supports a large number of substantial, jobbing houses, which have had a steady increase of trade yearly, and, with its many rail and water advantages for cheap transportation, is destined to become one of the first commercial cities of Indiana.

MANUFACTURES.

The chief manufacturing industry of this city is making furniture. This line employs over $1,000,000 of capital and a large number of hands. Its largest factory is the well known Armstrong Furniture Company, which was estabthey are enabled to offer as large a display of goods as any house in the west. In fact, there is no piece of manufactured furniture that this enterprising firm can not produce. In addition to this branch of the trade, Evansville has other extensive factories, all of which are in a flourishing condition. It has a large number of handsome church edifices, and in the way of educational facilities it is unexcelled, having in addition to its graded, classical and high schools an excellent business college, known as the Evansville Commercial College. The city has excellent water works; is well lighted by gas; has good county buildings, several miles of street lished in 1854, and incorporated in 1874, with a cash capital of $200,000. Their factory is 150x60 feet in size, six stories high, located at corner of Franklin and Seventh streets, and, together with the lumber yard, covers 5 acres of land. Their salesroom, located at 207 to 215 Main street, has 15 rooms, in addition to a large room 80x125 feet at corner of Water and Vine streets, making in all over 150,000 square feet of floor, whereon can be found manufactured furniture of all kinds, and some of the most handsome, substantial goods manufactured, which are shipped to all parts of the United States. Their trade now, although of such importance, is rapidly growing and extending. In addition to their own manufactured articles they purchase largely of other furniture factories and kindred branches, so that in this way railway, the St. Mary's hospital, two theaters, and two medical colleges.

NEWSPAPERS.

Evansville now has five dailies, the Courier, Evansville Union, Democrat, Journal, and Evening Tribune; one tri-weekly, the Evansville Journal; seven weeklies, the Saturday Argus, Our Weekly Age, the Courier, Evansville Union, Democrat, Journal, and Tribune, and The Indiana Medical Reporter, published monthly, which give it an unusually strong press influence.

BANKS.

The city has seven banking houses—national, savings and private—having an aggregate capital and surplus of about $2,400,000.

The hotels are numerous and ample for the city. The Sherwood House is considered first-class, and being now under the management of Mr. E. A. Frost, a most genial and courteous gentleman, is the favorite resort of the commercial traveler.

The city is distant from Indianapolis 192, St. Louis 161, and Louisville 250 miles; is incorporated; governed by the mayor and common council. The Western Union Telegraph and Adams Express Companies have offices that do a large business here. This city is one of the most prosperous enterprising and successful in the state, and one of which it may justly be proud. Francis M. Thayer, postmaster.

FORT WAYNE. The county seat of Allen county, and the commercial and manufacturing metropolis of Northern Indiana, is, next to the state capital, the most important city in the state, with a population of 26,048, according to the 1880 census. The city is located nearly in center of the county, distant from Chicago 148 miles, and from Indianapolis 135 miles.

Fort Wayne has many and great natural advantages, being situated at the head of the Maumee river, and on the St. Joseph river at its confluence with St. Mary river, giving it an immense water power, which is brought into use by means of two canals, one a feeder from the St. Joseph river, the other the Wabash and Erie canal, which are lined with factories from one end to the other.

Its location is very healthy, has admirable facilities for sewerage, excellent water furnished by an artesian well 3,000 feet deep, and said to contain good medical properties.

RAILROADS.

This city has excellent advantages in commerce and trade, being traversed by five good railroads. The Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific is the longest, the main track reaching from Toledo to St. Louis, and, with its leased lines, makes unbroken connection with all cities of the far west.

The Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railway passes through the city, making direct line from Chicago to the principal eastern cities. Its shops are located here, are the largest in the west, giving employment to about 1,000 men, and produce an immense amount of manufactured stock annually.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana, with its leased lines, is the most important north and south line in the west. This passes through the city from Petoskey, Mich., to Richmond, Ind., making 424 miles of road.

The Fort Wayne and Jackson road, formerly called Fort Wayne, Jackson & Sardinia, has its southern terminus here, and extends to Bay City, Michigan. The Fort Wayne, Muncie and Cincinnati railroad make this city its northern terminus and the location of its general offices and shops. This road, with the Whitewater, leased and pooled line, gives the city direct connection with Cincinnati, a distance of 197 miles.

MANUFACTURES.

The principal manufactories of Fort Wayne are the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Ry. shops, before mentioned, the Bass Foundry and Machine Works, the Fort Wayne Organ Company and the Centlivre French Brewery.

The Bass Foundry and Machine Works was established in 1853, incorporated in 1873, and is the largest car wheel manufactory in the United States. The foundry alone is 75 by 800 feet, and the area of all the buildings belonging to this institution is 129,300 square feet. Mr. John H. Bass, president of the concern, owns the Chicago Car Works and a controlling interest in the St. Louis Car Wheel Company. They manufacture, in addition to car wheels, steam engines, boilers, railroad castings, mill and heavy machinery, etc. The three institutions mentioned above, of which this is the head, comprises the largest chilled car wheel works in the world, and beyond all mere business calculations this industry has an importance in Fort Wayne that can not be computed.

The Fort Wayne Organ Company is one of the largest and most successful organ factories in the west. It was organized in 1871; employs about 75 hands, and has a rapidly increasing trade that extends all over the United States and parts of Europe. The works and lumber yard cover over three acres of ground.

Send for Illustrated Circular and Price List.

The only Pad yet invented that fastens itself to the collar, and fastens the collar at the same time, without buckles and straps.

It fits the horse's neck perfectly; may be adjusted to five different sizes; does not wear off the hair or chafe the neck and withers (as other Pads now in use do), thus preventing or avoiding the annoyance of sore necks, that are so generally caused by the inferior, ill-fitting Pads now in use. At the session of the Indiana Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, held in Lafayette, 1835, it was resolved to establish "The Indiana Asbury University." In due time a liberal charter was received from the Legislature, and a Preparatory School opened in 1836. Its career has been one of toil, sacrifice and success. Taking the lead of all such Institutions in the State in the number of its students and in general usefulness, it has deserved and acquired a wide-spread reputation.

Its success may be attributed to its adaptation to the wants of the people, its liberal courses of study and instruction, its progressive policy, and its strong moral and religious influence. The last few years have witnessed an encouraging growth. Its buildings are new, commodious, warmed by steam, and in comeliness and convenient arrangement for work equal to the best. The Course of Study has been enlarged, the Faculty strengthened, and considerable additions to the Endowment secured from noble and generous men and women.

There are full courses of Preparatory, Classical, Philosophical and Theological study. A wise margin of Elective Studies is allowed. The Library, Laboratories, Apparatus, etc., are in excellent condition for practical work. Tuition is free, in all departments, for both young men and women.

The Faculty consists of

HUNTINGTON. The seat of justice of Huntington county, with a population of 5,000, was first settled in 1833 by General John Tipton, of Logansport, who was known many years before its present settlement as Flint Springs, which was then one of the principal camping places along the Wabash valley. It is celebrated for its inexhaustible quarries of limestone. The lime from these quarries is considered the best found in any western state, and in great demand. The quarries and lime give employment to 300 persons. The village is located in a very productive agricultural district, on the W. St. L. & P. R., 118 miles southwest of Toledo, and 10 miles northeast of Indianapolis, and has gas and water works, 2 graded schools, churches, good county buildings and business blocks, together with 2 banks, 2 hotels—prominent among which is the Commercial House—3 weekly newspapers—Lime City News (independent), Huntingburgh Democrat and Indiana Herald (Republican)—and 3 grain elevators, which handle about 500,000 bushels of grain yearly.

In addition to its immense lime manufacturing facilities can be found 3 planing mills, potash manufactory, 4 flour mills, pump factory, stave and heading manufactory, tannery, flax bagging manufactory, foundry and machine shop, 2 furniture factories, 4 saw mills, plow handle manufactory, brick yard, wooden stirrup manufactory, 2 breweries, carriage body and spoke and wheel manufactories. Tri-weekly stage route from Warren—fare, 75c, Mount Erie fare 50c. Express, Pacific. Telegraph. Western Union. Mail daily. Alex. W. DeLong, postmaster.

INDIANAPOLIS. The seat of government for the state of Indiana, is the chief commercial city of the state, situated on the west fork of White river, in Center township, Marion county, 111 miles north-west of Cincinnati, 240 east of St. Louis, and 195 southeast of Chicago.

1822.....	500	1860.....	18,611
1825.....	1,066	1870.....	48,244
1840.....	2,692	1880.....	75,977
1850.....	8,091

The city was settled as the seat of government in 1820, laid out in 1821, and occupied as the capital in 1824.

RAILROADS.

This city is one of the most important railroad centers in the West, having twelve different lines of railroad. The Cincinnati, Hamilton & Indianapolis Ry, to Cincinnati, 123 miles; the Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati & Indianapolis Ry, to Galion, O., 203 miles; the Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis & Chicago R. R., to Cincinnati, O., 111, and to Lafayette, 64 miles; the Indiana, Bloomington & Western Ry, to Peora, Ill., 211 miles; the Indianapolis, Decatur & Springfield Ry, to Decatur, Ill., 153 miles; the Indianapolis, Peru & Chicago Ry, to Michigan City, 161 miles; the Indianapolis & St. Louis R. R., to St. Louis, Mo., 261 miles; the Indianapolis & Vincennes Ry, to Vincennes, 117 miles; the Jeffersonville, Madison & Indianapolis R. R., to Louisville, Ky., 110 miles; the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati & St. Louis Ry, to Columbus, O., 188 miles; the St. Louis, Vandalia, Terre Haute & Indianapolis R. R., to St. Louis, Mo., 238 miles; and the Union Railroad Transfer and Stock Yard Co., known as the Belt Railroad, by which all through traffic is transferred around the city without blocking the streets for hours each day as had become necessary through the accumulation of business over the railways in the past few years. The length of the road bed is a little more than twelve miles, of which one-half is double tracked. Including the switches, twenty miles of heavy steel rail have been laid, and the road bed is of the most substantial character. The bridges over White river are of iron and stone abutments, and are double tracked. The road is connected by switches with every line entering the city, except the Indianapolis, Peru & Chicago road, which can transfer if desirable, over the Bee Line. The equipment is in keeping with the other features mentioned. It has connection with all the pork houses and all the leading manufacturing, and affords unparalleled facilities for the location of manufacturing establishments along its line.

EDUCATIONAL.

The Board of School Commissioners, which is composed of eleven members, have charge of the schools. The valuation of the entire school property is $918,150, which constitutes the high and 24 ward school buildings in use, the Brookside University and three old buildings not in use. The total expense of conducting the schools for the year ending June 30, 1879, was $201,443.38, which includes the library expenses. The library is also conducted by the School Board, and is located in the new library building, corner Pennsylvania and Ohio streets, and contains about 35,000 volumes. The educational institutions, other than public schools, are 26, which include private and denominational schools, with property valued at $243,600.

CHURCHES.

Indianapolis is appropriately named the City of Churches, from the fact that it has 82 churches which own property valued at $752,100, representing the following denominations: 12 Baptist, 6 Catholic, 5 Christian, 2 Congregational, 6 Episcopal, 2 Evangelical, 1 Friends, 2 German Reformed, 1 Hebrew, 1 Independent, 6 Lutheran, 20 Methodist Episcopal, 14 Presbyterian, 1 Swedenborgian, 1 United Brethren, 1 United Presbyterian and 1 Unitarian.

BUILDINGS.

There are many handsome public and private buildings in the city, among which is the court house, an imposing and substantial model of architecture and beauty. It is fire-proof throughout. Its dimensions are 150x286 feet on the ground, 100 feet to top of cornice, 240 feet to top of dome, 285 feet to top of flag staff, and was completed in 1876 at a cost in round numbers of $1,500,000. The principal state and nevolent institutions are located here, and include the two immense buildings for the insane, the institution for the deaf and dumb, for the blind, and the female prison and girls' reformatory. The new state hospital, now in process of construction, ranks second to none in point of architectural design, substantial and imposing appearance, modern appointments, and dimensions. Messrs. Howard & Denig are the contractors, and Mr. Adolf Schuch is the architect. This, together with the English Opera House and Library Building, comprise the principal noted improvements.

STOCKS YARDS.

The Union Stock Yard is one of the most complete in its equipments and appointments in the country, with shed room, stabling and pens, all under roof and thoroughly under-drained; supplied with feed racks and water troughs in every part, with ample loading and unloading pens and platforms on a level with the car platforms. A fine brick hotel, with Exchange room, and some fifteen of the offices are occupied by the telegraph and company offices, and by commission firms engaged in the sale of stock. The advantages offered here for the transaction of an extensive live stock business are very many, and the superior facilities now provided will prove a great inducement.

GENERAL FEATURES.

There is not in the United States a more beautiful, a more enterprising, or more generally prosperous city of its age and size than Indianapolis. Situated almost immediately in the centre of the state, where the climate is most salubrious and the resources of nature abound in greatest riches, surrounded by all of the greatest wealth-producing articles of commerce; with rich, inexhaustible coal fields to the south and west, and uncultured forests which for the production of valuable timber are unequalled in America, at almost every point of the compass. Such is the exhibit made to-day by the largest inland city in the United States; by one of the greatest railroad centers in the world; and by one of the principal pork and grain marts in the west. Indianapolis has every advantage, both natural and otherwise, to make it one of the first cities in the west, and with its many attractions as a residence city, offers unparalleled inducements to manufacturers, trade and commerce. In a city of this magnitude, with its diversity of commercial and professional pursuits, it would be impossible to give, within the limits to which a sketch of this kind must be confined, a full or even partial description of each of the numberless special lines of business, and the statistics in the foregoing have been confined to the chief business and manufacturing interests of the city.

PATENTS.

Caveats, Prints, Labels, Copyrights. All business pertaining to these and like matters, promptly and carefully attended to, by C. BRAD-FORD, Solicitor of Patents, 18 Hubbard Block, Indianapolis, Indiana.

MINNESOTA CHIEF SEPARATOR.

BELTED SIDE.

There are only four Driving Belts on the Separator; Viz:

One main belt, running from the Cylinder and driving the Fan; one small belt driving the only Beater in the machine; one belt driving the Grain Rake and one belt driving the Straw Carrier. It is neither a Vibrator nor an Apron Machine, but far surpasses either in all the essential requisites of a Perfect Thresher. It is easy of management, light running, capable of very rapid threshing, as the Separating Table and Sieves will take care of all that can be passed the Cylinder. In separating and cleaning it excels all others. It threshes everything a farmer has to thresh—Wheat, Rye, Oats, Barley, Flax, Timothy, Millet, Clover and Peas. It handles Flax and Timothy nearly as rapidly as grain, requiring no change of parts, except sieves, and cleans them fit for market. With its Clover Attachment it threshes Clover fully equal to any Huller. It is by far the most popular Separator in the market, outselling all others wherever known. It invariably secures the most and best jobs of threshing.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT

Butler University

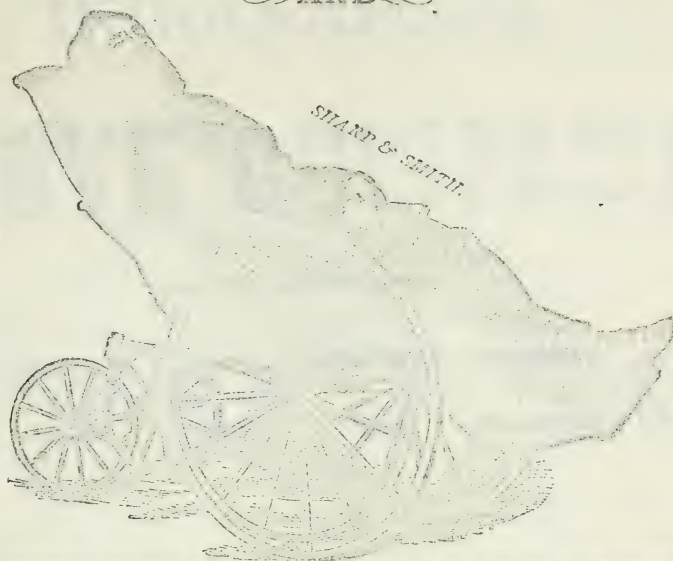

The Institution was formed by the union of the Indiana Medical College and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Indiana, a union consummated in deference to the views of the Medical Profession throughout the State. The success which has attended this concentration of the resources and patronage of the two Colleges has already very fully exemplified the soundness of the maxim that "in union there is strength."

My experience is over 16 years in business; prepare all specifications and claims myself, subject to the approval of inventors; make my own drawings; entrust no models to draughtsmen outside of my office, which is a common and dangerous practice of unskilled solicitors; nearly one-fourth of the patents issued to Indiana inventors are taken out by me and published by other solicitors as items of news under the head of Patents granted to "Indiana Inventors."

MOORE'S. Improved Mercantile Desks.

The Most Practical "FLAT TOPS" Made.

No. 1--Outside View.

No. 2--Inside View.

Designed, Manufactured and Sold by

THE MOORE COMBINATION DESK COMPANY.

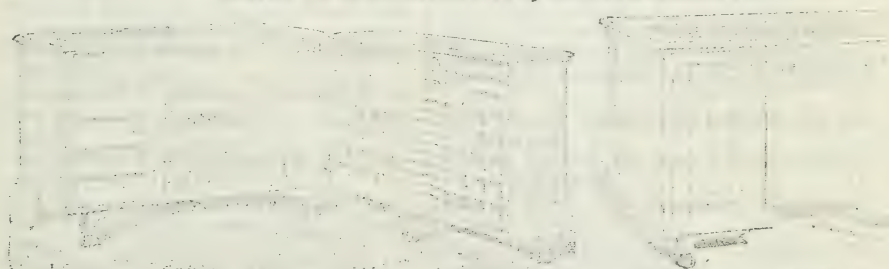

Office, 82 East Market-St. Factory at Brightwood.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., U. S. A.

With many persons a "FLAT TOP DESK" is a great favorite. Owing, however, to faulty designs, and the imperfect arrangement of other patterns heretofore devised, objections lead of necessity to be overcome in order to produce an article of great value. We confidently assert that we have PRODUCED A DESK WHICH COMBINES IN A NEAT, SUBSTANTIAL FORM, THE ELEMENTS OF ECONOMY, COMPACTNESS, CONVENIENCE AND DURABILITY. In a word, we have a FLAT TOP DESK POSSESSING ALL THE MODERN CONVENIENCES of a more expensive article.

They are designed in THREE PATTERNS and FIVE NUMBERS, 1 to 5. The three numbers are of similar design, as shown by Cut No. 1, varying only in dimensions.

The table or top being movable, renders the compartments underneath as convenient as if located above it.

No. 4--Front Open View.

No. 4--Reverse Side

Seated at one of these desks, one feels that he is surrounded by all the CONVENIENCES NECESSARY for the prosecution of ANY AMOUNT OF BUSINESS IN A COMFORTABLE AND SATISFACTORY MANNER.

With these improved, compact and economical conveniences, Lawyers, Bankers, Merchants and Business Men of all classes can provide themselves with a desk that will render them efficient service at a reasonable outlay. For additional information, address

OF INDIANA

S. W. Cor. Washington and Meridian Sts.,
INDIANAPOLIS.

GENERAL PRINCIPLES.—The College was organized and has been conducted in the interests of medical truth, as established in nature; the development and perpetuation of those grand and beautiful principles which ever have for their object the conservation of the vital powers of the physical organization. It habitually accepts such truths as are unmistakably established, it matters not from what source they come. Science, truth, principle, are based upon immutable laws, and are unchangeable. To know the laws; to ascertain the principles governed by those laws and deposit its teachings in accordance with the same, is the object of the college instruction.

OFFICE OF
FRANK H. SMITH,
PRINTING & STATIONERY
No. 16½ East Washington Street.

INDIANAPOLIS, September, 1880.

It is with great pleasure that I announce to my friends and the public, that I have recently added new Presses, and the latest styles of Type, Ornaments, &c., to my already well filled establishment, and with these increased facilities I may safely state, that I am now better than ever prepared to do all kinds of printing, in the best manner; and as I carry a full stock of CARD BOARD, PAPER AND OFFICE STATIONERY, can furnish the same at as low prices as any other printing house in the country, and in many cases much lower.

The many excellent specimens of typography recently turned out by me—among others the LIFE AND POEMS OF SARAH T. BOLTON, Published by F. L. HORTON & CO., of this city, will fully confirm the statement that I cannot be excelled for skillful, correct and superior workmanship.

As none but experienced and expert workmen are employed, I can guarantee for the future as good work as any done in the past; and shall not only strive to preserve and maintain my well earned reputation for accuracy, promptness and satisfaction to customers, but shall endeavor by close personal supervision to even excel in these particulars, and aim at still greater excellence.

The services of MR. JNO. SCHLEY, are still retained as proof-reader.

MR. HAMPTON, as pressman, whose superior workmanship is his sufficient recommendation.

MR. ROBINSON, late of Hartford, Conn., as foreman of the job department, whose service with the largest eastern printing houses is a sufficient guarantee.

Thanking my friends for past favors, it shall be my purpose to deserve an increase of their confidence and patronage in the future.

Most Respectfully,

FRANK H. SMITH.

JEFFERSONVILLE. The city of justice for Clark county, is an incorporated city of 9000 inhabitants, beautifully located on the Ohio river opposite Louisville, and adjoining New Albany, having ferrage and rail connection with each place. It is 103 miles south of Indianapolis, traversed by the J. M. & I. and Louisville Branch O. & M. Rys, but by its complete system of ferryboat and rail connection with Louisville it derives nearly all the benefits that Louisville does of her railroads. The city is well lighted by gas, has wide streets, excellent schools, handsome church edifices of nearly all denominations, and good county buildings, which are newly built of substantial material, and present a handsome appearance. The county seat was recently located here, being changed from Charlestown to this place. Jeffersonville has a bonded indebtedness of $300,000, and supports five hotels, two banks, three weekly and three daily newspapers. The dailies are known as the Journal (Republican), Times and News (Democratic), weeklies as Journal (Republican), Times and Democrat (Democratic). Its manufactories, while not numerous, comprise some of the most extensive in the state, having two large ship yards, a plate glass factory, large car works, the J. M. & I. R. R. shops, and several establishments of less note. This is the location of the Indiana State Prison South and the U. S. Quartermaster's Supply Department, both establishments having large, imposing edifices, and these, with its many other attractions, are destined to make the city one of prominence and importance. The O. & M. Adams, American and Union Express Companies have offices here. Telegraph, Western Union. Mr. A. M. Luke is postmaster.

Rocking & Easy Easter Chair

DEALERS WILL BE FURNISHED PRICE LISTS AND CATALOGUES UPON APPLICATION TO THE

McLean Manufacturing Co.,

SOLE MANUFACTURERS,

[OVER]

LAWRENCEBURGH, IND.

THE McLEAN

Rocking & Easy Caster Chair

after passing through an ordeal of the severest criticism, and of the strongest competition by the Combined Platform Rockers, has now taken its place at the front.

This deservedly popular chair is made in all styles of frames for cane, perforated wood or patent leather seats, and for upholstery, single or in full suits, to match, is finished in varnish, oil or ebony gilt. It is made of walnut and other hard and well seasoned material, very handsomely carved, engraved or veneered, and of superior workmanship and finish.

Its agreeable motion, and its freedom from all complicated springs and machinery, are great advantages properly appreciated by all who had the good fortune to obtain or to try one of the chairs.

There is nothing to compare with the McLean Chairs for real comfort, elegance and durability. It is not a so called "low priced chair," but cheap, nevertheless, considering the material and workmanship, and no home should be without it, where comfort is appreciated.

The McLean Crib Improved is made upon the same motive principle, in several styles of excellent finish, and with an ingenious lock.

We give a list of some of the furniture houses in different cities who are selling the Chairs and Cribs :

LEAVENWORTH. A thriving incorporated village of 1,000 inhabitants, situated on the Ohio river, is the county seat of Crawford county, 60 miles below Louisville and 140 above Evansville. The famous Wyandotte cave is located 5 miles northeast of the village, on Blue river. This cave is 23 miles in length, including all the avenues. It has many fine halls and domes, the largest of which has a circumference of 1,000 feet and is 240 feet high. Wyandotte cave should be visited even by those who have already explored the great cavern of Kentucky, for it is far richer in stalactite ornamentations than the latter. The stalactites are of the fine-grained translucent kind, often called alabaster, and much resembling the Mexican onyx. There is a good hotel situated near the cave, and as it would take a volume to describe the whole cave, will say that the scientist or tourist can not afford to miss an exploration. Mr. Lee Gilmore is proprietor of daily hack line to the cave—fare 50c. The place has substantial county and public buildings, good religious and educational facilities, two weekly newspapers—the Crawford County Democrat and Crawford County Herald (Republican). Last named is an excellent paper, established in 1870, ably edited by Messrs. Hawn and Springstun; is an excellent advertising medium, with a circulation of 1,000 copies. Contains two hotels—Doelittle's and Overbacker. Both are good houses, but the Overbacker is centrally located and first-class in every respect. Express, Adams. Mail daily. E. R. Hawn, postmaster.

LEBANON. The seat of justice of Boone county, was established in 1832, incorporated as a city in 1875, and is now a growing, enterprising place of 3,000 inhabitants, located on the C. I. St. L. & C. R. R., 27 miles northeast of Indianapolis. Its principal buildings are the county buildings, a large graded school of nine departments, an opera house and five churches. The assessed value of real and personal property is $357,955.

The city supports five hotels and three weekly newspapers—the Pioneer (Democratic), Patric (Republican), and the National Greenbacker—and two banks. Lumber is manufactured extensively, and in that branch of trade the city has five saw mills and one planing mill, which together with a woolen mill, chair factory, two flour mills, two stave factories, a pork packing establishment and a plow handle factory, comprise its principal manufacturing interests. The surrounding country is very fertile, and yields for export wheat, corn, hogs and cattle. Telegraph, Western Union and American Union. Express, American. Mail daily. Francis M. Busby, postmaster.

as the capital of the county. Prior to 1860 the growth of the city was gradual, but since then has been growing rapidly. The streets are wide and clean, regularly laid out, crossing at right angles, bordered with shade trees and lighted with gas. The churches will compare favorably with those of any other city of equal size in the state, and are 17 in number, with the following denominations: Baptist, Methodist, Catholic, Presbyterian, Episcopalian, Lutheran, Christian, and German Reform. The city is provided with excellent water works, erected in 1876, at a cost of $175,000, having 9 miles of main, has high school, four ward schools, and a business college, and county buildings, substantial business blocks, and handsome residences. The principal hotels are the Murdock, Hicks & Cunningham, props, and Barnett House, Barnett & Sons, props, both centrally located, and are perhaps surpassed by none in the state in point of accommodation. The Gehring and Windsor and City Hotel will also be found very comfortable. There are two banks—one national and one private. The press is represented by two daily and three weekly newspapers. The dailies are known as The Pharos (Democratic), and Journal (Republican); weeklies as Pharos, Journal, and Chronicle (Independent). MARION. The county seat of Grant county, is one of the most important commercial towns of its size in the State. It is surrounded by an exceedingly fertile district, the land being slightly undulating, and adapted to grazing or the growth of grain.

The city is incorporated, has a population of 3,180, located at crossing of C. W. & M. and P. C. & St. L. Ry, 70 miles northeast of Indianapolis. Its broad streets are well lighted by gas, has a good fire department, and one of the best water works in Indiana, comprising 7 miles of main, and a flowing well of water that supplies the entire city, and contains most excellent medical properties.

Marion may well boast of her business blocks, as they are a credit to the city, and in the way of public buildings, which include a handsome court house now in course of erection, to cost as per contract, $134,000, and with her many handsome church edifices and substantial school buildings, has no equal in the State in any place of comparative size.

This city was first laid out as a village in February, 1830, was incorporated in 1844, and now supports three hotels, two banks, and two weekly newspapers—the Chronicle

(Republican) and Democrat (Democratic). In the manufacturing line Marion is as yet undeveloped, but with her rail facilities and good supply of material, she will at no distant day become a place of considerable importance in this branch.

The chief exports are grain, lumber, staves and pork. Express, United States, Western Union Telegraph, and daily mail. James Noland, postmaster.

Perte, the county seat. Its railroads are the Michigan Central, Indianapolis, Peru & Chicago, and Louisville, New Albany & Chicago. Distant from Chicago 56 miles (by rail), and from Indianapolis 161 miles. Eight business firms are extensively engaged in the lumber business, and the place justly claims the largest lumber trade of any city in the State. Among the prominent features of the city is the Northern Indiana prison, fine school and church buildings, a national bank, two newspapers—the Enterprise and Dispatch—five hotels, and good business blocks. Franklin street, the principal business thoroughfare, is a beautiful street, and gives the city quite a metropolitan appearance. In addition to its large lumber interests there are to be found a flour mill, corset manufactory, car works, planing mill, chair manufactory, broom factory, cooper shop and refrigerator manufactory.
